

ALEXANDER AGASSIZ SOCIETY

Alexander Agassiz died at sea in 1910, but his presence is still felt in Calumet today. At the same time he was leading the Calumet and Hecla mine to international fame, Agassiz was influencing nearly every aspect of life in the community that developed around it. Massive warehouses, tall smokestacks, stately office buildings, and other industrial structures demarcating the former mine site reflect his managerial approach, but Calumet's schools, libraries, and churches also bear his stamp.

Less obvious, but perhaps more evocative, are the local traditions, beliefs and attitudes that his policies helped shape. It is impossible to separate this complex, accomplished, and driven man from Calumet's history.

The Agassiz Society honors individuals who leave a legacy of their own for the future of the Public Schools of Calumet, Laurium & Keweenaw by providing specific bequests or planned gifts. There are no minimum amounts necessary and no future obligations. You are automatically qualified for membership when you include the Public Schools of Calumet, Laurium & Keweenaw in your estate plans and notify us.

Planned gifts can also qualify you for Membership in other recognition programs, such as the Lifetime Giving Societies.

The Public Schools of Calumet, Laurium & Keweenaw invite you to consider leaving a legacy for the school district. It will be our honor to recognize you as a member of the Agassiz Society.
